Healthcare Packaging Conference & Workshop 2011 –

Now in its fifth year, this popular conference focuses on pharmaceutical and medical device packaging challenges and solutions and is produced by Healthcare Packaging magazine. Attendees will learn innovative strategies from their peers – professionals at market leading companies in the U.S. and around the world – plus industry innovators and experts. A morning general session is paired with afternoon breakout workshops to optimize networking and to also allow for more focused education.

Healthcare Packaging Conference & Workshops session content is developed for professionals who make packaging decisions for pharmaceuticals, healthcare products, and medical devices. Engineers, plant managers, validation and regulation officials, package designers, security/quality control professionals, and suppliers to these markets will find this event to be inspirational and educational.

Speakers from past conferences include:

AstraZeneca, McNeil Consumer Healthcare, KornickLindsay, U.S. Dept. of Commerce, Johnson & Johnson, Pfizer, Schering Plough, Merck, Joint Equipment Transition Team (JETT) and Alcan Global Pharmaceutical Packaging (contract packagers), Product Ventures, Ltd., Healthcare Compliance Packaging Council and Abbott Labs and other leading organizations.

Feedback from attendees:

“What a great conference – content and contact rich – all in one day!”

“Excellent real examples of how manufacturing is improved by changes in control engineering, without references to specific vendors.”

“Very good analysis on URS creation and benchmarking”

“Excellent. Kept to the topic...used many useful illustrations”

“Great, real, candid presentation”

“The McNeil & AstraZeneca real-life stories were wonderful!”

“Extremely dynamic speaker! Highly informative!”

“Very informative. I had the chance to meet new people and learn a great deal about topics that affect me directly.”
